

Approval Request: NerdioCon 2027

Hi [Supervisor's Name],

I'm requesting approval to attend NerdioCon 2027 from March 15–17 in Fort Lauderdale, FL. This is Nerdio's annual customer conference that brings together IT leaders, Microsoft product leaders, and the Nerdio team for three days focused on what's next for modern desktops on the Microsoft Cloud.

Why NerdioCon 2027

As our approach to cloud environments continues to evolve, NerdioCon provides an opportunity to hear directly from the people building the products and shaping the strategies we rely on.

The conference is designed specifically for IT teams, with dedicated tracks, hands-on learning, product roadmap updates, and direct access to Nerdio and Microsoft leaders. Rather than a broad industry conference, the content is focused on practical strategies and insights we can bring back and apply to our own environment.

NerdioCon at a Glance

Monday, March 15

- Optional Pre-Day: Training & Certification for MSP and Enterprise attendees ($99 add-on)
- Evening Welcome Reception & Vendor Hall Opening

Tuesday, March 16

- Opening keynotes and Enterprise & MSP product roadmap sessions
- Afternoon breakout track sessions and technical learning
- Vendor Hall, Community Theater sessions, and networking opportunities

Wednesday, March 17

- Morning keynotes and breakout track sessions
- Vendor Hall, Community Theater sessions, and peer networking
- Closing keynotes and evening Closing Party

Roadmap access, hands-on sessions, and direct conversations with Nerdio and Microsoft teams in one place would be hard to replicate through individual training, consulting, or virtual sessions.

What I'll bring back to the team

- Product roadmap straight from the Nerdio team, plus direct access to the Microsoft and Nerdio leaders shaping Windows Cloud strategy.
- Hands-on sessions across the Enterprise and MSP tracks, built around real-world Microsoft Cloud environments.
- Peer exchange with 1,000+ IT and MSP practitioners.
- Takeaways we can apply to our current technology investments and upcoming decisions.

Estimated Costs

Conference Pass: $499*

- Pre-Day: Training & Certification: $99 (Optional add-on)
- Hotel: $489 per night + applicable taxes and resort fee
- Airfare: TBD
- Estimated Total:

Early-bird pricing until November 30; increases to $699 on December 1.*

NerdioCon is expected to sell out, so I'd love to register soon and take advantage of early-bird pricing. If approved, I'll share what I learn with the team afterward, including a summary of key takeaways and any recommendations for our environment.

Thanks for considering it. Happy to talk through any questions.

Best regards,
